

The best Australian science fiction, fantasy and horror of 2009.

Congratulations to the winners of the 2009 Aurealis Awards!

The winners were announced at the fourteenth annual Aurealis Awards ceremony at the Judith Wright Centre of Contemporary Arts in Brisbane on Saturday 23 January 2010.

best children's (8-12 years)
novel

Gabrielle Wang, A Ghost in My Suitcase, Puffin Books

best children's (8-12 years)
short fiction/illustrated work/picture book

Pamela Freeman, Kim Gamble, Victor's Challenge, Walker Books Australia

best young adult novel

Scott Westerfeld, Leviathan (Leviathan Trilogy: Book One), Penguin

best young adult short story

Cat Sparks, 'Seventeen', Masques, CSFG

best Illustrated book/graphic novel:

Nathan Jurevicius, Scarygirl, Allen & Unwin

best anthology

Jonathan Strahan (editor), Eclipse 3, Night Shade Books

best collection

Greg Egan, Oceanic, Gollancz

best horror novel

Honey Brown, Red Queen, Penguin Australia

best horror short story

Joint winners:

Paul Haines, 'Wives', X6, Coeur de Lion Publishing
Paul Haines, 'Slice of Life - A Spot of Liver', Slice of Life, The Mayne Press

best fantasy novel

Trudi Canavan, Magician's Apprentice, Orbit

best fantasy short story

Joint winners:

Christopher Green, 'Father's Kill', Beneath Ceaseless Skies #24
Ian McHugh, 'Once a Month, On a Sunday', Andromeda Spaceways Inflight Magazine
#40, Andromeda Spaceways Publishing Cooperative Ltd

best science fiction novel

Andrew McGahan, Wonders of a Godless World, Allen & Unwin

best science fiction short story

Peter M. Ball, 'Clockwork, Patchwork and Ravens', Abyss & Apex Magazine May 2009

Complete short lists of finalists and details are available on the Aurealis Awards website:

www.aurealisawards.com